

FMC Technologies Named World's Most Admired Oil and Gas Equipment, Services Company

March 1, 2012 4:57 PM ET

HOUSTON, March 1, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- FMC Technologies, Inc. (NYSE: FTI) announced today that it has been named the 2012 World's Most Admired Company in the Oil and Gas Equipment, Services industry by FORTUNE® Magazine.

The rankings are based on a survey of approximately 15,000 senior executives, outside directors and industry analysts. Companies were evaluated based on the following criteria: innovation, people management, use of corporate assets, social responsibility, quality of management, financial soundness, quality of products/services, long-term investment and global competitiveness.

"We are honored that our peers have again selected FMC as the world's most admired company in our industry," said John Grep, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of FMC Technologies. "Our employees strive to deliver customer success each day, and I am pleased their efforts and the reliability of our innovative technologies and services have made a strong impression in the market."

FMC Technologies, Inc. (NYSE:FTI) is a leading global provider of technology solutions for the energy industry. The Company has approximately 14,200 employees and operates 27 production facilities in 16 countries. FMC Technologies designs, manufactures and services technologically sophisticated systems and products such as subsea production and processing systems, surface wellhead systems, high pressure fluid control equipment, measurement solutions, and marine loading systems for the oil and gas industry. For more information, visit www.fmctechnologies.com.

SOURCE FMC Technologies, Inc.

News Provided by Acquire Media