Press Release

TechnipFMC Awarded Subsea Contracts for ExxonMobil Guyana's Longtail Project

NEWCASTLE & HOUSTON, November 19, 2026 — TechnipFMC (NYSE: FTI) has been awarded a large[(1)] contract by ExxonMobil Guyana Limited to supply subsea production systems for the Longtail development in Guyana's Stabroek Block.

TechnipFMC will provide project management, engineering, and manufacturing of the full subsea production system scope for this gas condensate development. The subsea architecture will include Subsea 2.0® trees, manifolds, and associated controls.

In addition, TechnipFMC has been awarded a significant[(2)] contract to design and manufacture flexible production risers for the Longtail development. TechnipFMC will provide the same high-performance flexible riser solution that was previously utilized on the Yellowtail and Payara phases of the Stabroek development.

Jonathan Landes, President, Subsea at TechnipFMC, commented: "We are honored to support ExxonMobil Guyana on Longtail, our eighth greenfield project together. This award reflects the trust built through collaboration, our proven execution, and the favorable impact of Subsea 2.0® on schedule certainty. We value the opportunity to support the development of the Stabroek Block."

(1) For TechnipFMC, a "large" contract is between $500 million and $1 billion. This award was included in inbound orders in prior quarters.

(2) For TechnipFMC, a "significant" contract is between $75 million and $250 million. This award was included in inbound orders in prior quarters.
